ABOUT US

Stormline is a family business founded in 1966 by George McMillan in Invercargill, New Zealand. Stormline was established to manufacture commercial fishing gear for the demanding New Zealand commercial fishing and outdoor industries. Graeme McMillan, the present Managing Director, took over the business in 1982 from his father George and has since extended the scope of manufacturing with a continued emphasis on quality and innovation for which Stormline has become renowned. Stormline continues this family lineage today.

Stormline manufactures a variety of professional rain gear and recreational wet weather gear in New Zealand for retail and commercial clients worldwide. The gear is renowned for its safety features, quality and durability.

WARRANTY

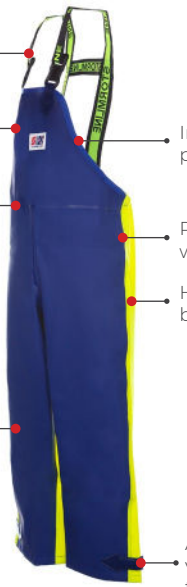

Our garments are sold with full factory warranty against all defects in workmanship for 30 days from purchase. (full warranty will apply outside this period at Stormline's discretion). The warranty doesn't cover wear and tear, tears, snags or misuse. Stormline only uses the best quality fabrics. Stormline takes care and attention in the manufacture of all its garments to present you with well-designed functional styles where quality is foremost.
